

Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

The Atlas Copco Group has been operating in the United Kingdom for almost 98 years. Worldwide, it is a leading global manufacturing organisation (employing circa 45,000 staff) which is listed on the Swedish Stock Exchange (Atlas Copco AB).

Here in the UK, Atlas Copco employs 2,060 employees covering five (5) different business areas; Compressor Technique, Vacuum Technique, Industrial Technique, Mining and Rock Excavation Technique and Construction Technique.

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. All Atlas Copco entities endeavour to be ISO 9000 compliant and we have the same expectations of our suppliers. All potential suppliers are assessed considering a number of factors and graded appropriately. Based on this grading, suppliers will be sent questionnaires to complete to ensure they are the right business partner for our company.

Furthermore, in our General Terms and Conditions, we specifically refer to the Atlas Copco Business Code of Practice and failure to adhere to our code could result in termination of any business relationship. Any member of staff, business partner(s) or any third party can raise concerns via the company's confidential whistle blowing email address.

In addition to the above, Atlas Copco also has a Business Partner Criteria Checklist which is based on the UN Global Compact and the International Labour Organization Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work. We endeavour to ensure that the majority of our suppliers in our supply chains sign up to this Checklist which includes two red flag points; 'elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour' and 'rejection of child labour'. We also carry out on-site audits and systematically carry out internal audits on our companies.

The Business Code of Practice is embedded in the Atlas Copco culture and we carry out regular training sessions for all members of staff. Not only that, those members of staff that are considered to be more exposed to potential corrupt practices must annually sign a Compliance Statement to ensure they are reminded of their obligations under the Business Code of Practice.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our Group's slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 31 December 2016.

DIRECTOR

Atlas Copco Limited

Date:

27.2.2017